Double Patenting Rejection

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 11 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 and 10 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,020,586. This is a double patenting rejection.

The limitations "the two dimensional multipole ion guide, which functions as a two dimensional ion trap, and comprises a plurality of spaced apart rods parallel to each other and extending from the entrance end to the exit end and parallel to an axis of the ion beam" as recited in claim 11 of application SN: 09/808,468 are considered to be inherent in the term "a multipole ion guide" as recited in claim 1 of the Patent No. 6,020,586; since the multipole ion guide is well known in the art and formed by a plurality of spaced apart rods which are parallel to each other and parallel to the axis of the ion beam, and extending from the entrance end to the exit end and also used to trap ions in and scan ions out of the multipole ion guide to prevent excessive charge buildup in the multipole ion guide as recited in claim 13 of application SN: 09/808,468.

Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Reasons for indicating allowable subject matter

The prior art fails to disclose an apparatus for analyzing chemical species, which includes means for controlling the timing of means for pulsing ions transferred into a pulsing region as recited in claim 12.

Applicant's arguments filed on 19 December 2003, 19 July 2004 and 29 July 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive in view of the foregoing reasons.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
